Factory Run
Now Over

On Saturday at 4:30 p.m. the last of the 1929. Sugar crop in Southern Alberta went through the cutters of the big mill at Raymond. Running steadily since October 3rd. there had been 65,000 tons of beets sliced, and 17,600,000 pounds of fine granulated sugar turned out of the sacking chutes, most of which is stored in the big warehouse which is packed to the very apex with sugar.

The campaign has been outstanding in many respects. There has not been an accident of a serious nature during the entire run. There have been no breakdowns and no lay-offs during the entire time. The capacity of the mill which is 1,000 tons daily was eclipsed one day when 1,035 tons of beets went over the scales and made 325,000 pounds of sugar that day.

There has been perfect harmony all fall between the officials and the men and all will leave with many fond remembrances of the campaign.

The sugar end did not finish until Tuesday night when the last of the juice came through the lines and into the bags.

While this year has been highly satisfactory, it is hoped that next year the tonnage will be between 80,000 and 90,000 tons at least, making the manufacturing of sugar more profitable for both grower and manufacturer.

The cash turnover for the 2 months and ten days operations would be an amount to stagger one, and to any thinking person should prove the value and benefit of beets in the crop rotation. When we bemoan small beet yields we should not lose sight of the fact that for many years we have been harvesting grain crops year after year from this land and putting nothing back. Give the land a chance and then see what the sugar industry will do for Southern Alberta.

MINNEAPOLIS AUTOMOBILE
OFFENDERS MUST PAY FINE
OR GO TO SAFETY SCHOOL

A school that teaches its lessons so effectively that only one of 300 graduates has found it necessary to take a post-graduate course has been opened in Minneapolis. It teaches only one subject—safety in operating automobiles.

The institution was founded by Judge Levi Hall, who presides over the Minneapolis traffic court, and is co-educational. Judge Hall found that most of the careless drivers brought before him were between 18 and 25 years old, so he decided that further schooling would not be out of order. Each offender has the choice of paying a $25 fine or attending school.

With the co-operation of the Minneapolis Auto Club and the Dunwoody Industrial Institute, the "traffic college" was opened, with a course extending over five weeks, composed of five two-hour lectures and demonstrations. At the end of the term the student must pass an examination on the traffic code, safety rules and the mechanical control of an automobile.

The graduate school of this college is the city workhouse, and a repetition of an offence automatically enrolls the offender in this department, but of the first graduating class, only one person has had to continue his education. Absence from class is punished by a five-day confinement in the workhouse, and only three students have neglected to be present at each roll call.

The second class was composed of 204 men and 4 women. The "faculty" charged with their instruction consisted of Judge Hall, who lectures on the legal phases of the traffic code; Capt. George Torman of the police department, who talks on traffic ordinances; Frank Berry of the auto club who conducts a class in safety; and M. R. Bass of the Dunwoody Institute who teaches mechanical control of the automobile. A diploma is awarded at the close of the course.

Judge Hall plans to continue the school for a year. The experiment is being watched with interest by other cities facing the same problem, he said.—Christian Science Monitor.

Funeral Services of
Mrs. T. T. Mendenhall

There was a large attendance of people at the services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Mendenhall, who died while away at Redwood, California, where she went for medical treatment, after suffering from prolonged illness covering a period of several years.

Bishop Heber F. Allen who was in charge of the services said that the large attendance was indicative of the love and esteem which the people of this district held for the deceased also Mr. Mendenhall and the family.

The Seventies Quorum of which M. T. T. Mendenhall the sorrowing husband was a member, sat on the stand in respect to the family. The pall bearers were all brothers of Mrs. Mendenhall.

It is worthy of note that the deceased, who is a daughter of the late John and Hannah Gibb, is among the most highly respected citizens and from a family of Southern Alberta's best pioneers.

J. U. Allred and O. H. Snow of Raymond, and A. M. Merkely of Magrath were the speakers at the services. Mr. Allred who lived neighbors to the deceased during the last decade referred to the splendid characteristics of the deceased also the bereft husband both of whom he said were "true blue," and were always willing and ready to serve others. That never during the long period of illness was the deceased heard to complain. "Like her good mother who still survives," he said, "she was an exemplary woman. It was her ambition to raise a family of good honorable citizens in which so far she had been successful." The speaker urged to boys and girls not to forget the teachings of their good mother whose love and devotion to them was worthy of their respect and kind consideration.

In a few brief remarks A. M. Merkely of Magrath, referred to the splendid parents of the deceased who had raised a honorable family to which she belonged. He spoke of the sacrifice of the parents who came here in response to a call from the church authorities to assist in the colonization of Southern Alberta, and of the contribution that the Gibb family had made.

O. H. Snow of the State presidency preached an eloquent sermon and in his usual sincere manner offered some wise counsel. He too referred to the parents of the deceased who had raised such a splendid family of men and women. President Snow reminded the people of the need of kind acts in behalf of the family of boys and girls who were left without a mother. He urged all those present to not forget this family and to render every possible assistance.

The combined choirs from both wards rendered very appropriate music also a soprano solo by Mrs. O. H. Snow and a double mixed quartet "Sleep Thy Last Sleep."

There were a large number of floral offerings which also indicated the love and sympathy from many friends.

Besides the husband, seven children survive—three boys and four girls. One child preceeded the mother several years ago. Mrs. Mendenhall was 46 years of age, and came to Canada with her parents 28 years ago. Interment was made in the city cemetery. Despite the severe weather a goodly number accompanied the remains to the cemetery.

BIOGRAPHICAL

Hannah Gibb Mendenhall was born at Lehi Utah April 19, 1883 daughter of John L. Gibb and Hannah Simmons. Migrated with the family from Lehi to Raymond Alberta. Arriving Sept. 2nd, 1901 the first family to live in house built in Raymond.

She is survived by her husband seven children, mother six full brothers and one full sister, and numerous relatives in Utah and Canada and a host of friends.

Invest in Canada

Despite the influence of New York Stock Exchange trends on Canadian security prices, it is quite interesting to note that Canadian industrial, mining and oil stock were hammered down much less in the recent Wall Street debacle than those of the United States. And outside of this being a remarkable tribute to the soundness of conditions in Canada, it might well be considered at this time if Canada is not quite good enough a place for the investment of Canadian funds?

Canada is a new country rich in natural resources. It is enjoying unprecedented prosperity from coast to coast. Its leaders in industry and finance have been able to influence capital in the development of big mining, industrial, timber and power development that ensure attractive investment returns. Canadian labor is kept employed by these enterprises. But although the most of the capital involved has been raised in Canada, a surprisingly large proportion has been obtained, and freely obtained in other countries.

Now if United States funds and those of other countries flow freely to this country for natural resources development, is it not unwise for Canadians to invest their surplus funds in other lands? More than twenty American millionaires have been created through successful investment in Canada's mining industry alone, and although some Canadians in the past have been fortunate in their foreign investments a much larger proportion of other peoples find this country with its big program of expansion a safer and surer field for investment success.

Even funds lost to the individual through occasional failures in Canadian development enterprises are not lost to the country. Money raised for the proving of mining and oil fields employs Canadian labor, buys Canadian-made machinery and supplies, pays Canadian taxes, creates markets for Canadian farm products, and provides revenue for Canadian transportation companies, Canadian banks and Canadian newspapers. The nature of all development undertaking being speculative, some money invested in new Canadian undertaking is naturally lost to the investor, but the great work of proving our natural resources goes on and the country is consequently richer, for one successful development offsets the losses caused by a few failures.

On the other hand Canadian money invested in New York benefits the industrial development of another country. Profits obtained help to build up Canadian wealth but money lost is not only lost to the individual but lost forever to Canada. The recent drastic decline of American industrial on the New York Stock Exchange should prove an object lesson to Canadians. Would it not have been much better to have had much of the Canadian money lost in New York invested in Canadian securities and retained in Canada for the building up of Canadian industry and the employment of Canadian labor?—News from the Mines.

Basketball Due for
Comeback in SouthSCHEDULES for THREE LEAGUES
DRAWN UP AT ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Representatives from South Gather in "Y" to Effect Organization Under C. O. Asplund—Plan Formation of Ladies' League—Jacks Return to Game in Senior Ranks—Glenwood and Taber New Entries in Mediate Loop.

Basketball, like other sports, seems to be preparing for a comeback this season and if the meeting held in the city on Saturday last is any criterion, the game will be given plenty of opportunity to develop this year.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the southern district organization meeting called by the district organizer, C. O. Asplund of Raymond, and representatives from all major points in the south country were present. The gathering was voted the most harmonious and satisfactory of any that has been held and this in itself bids fair to give the various leagues a running start.

That the southland would see basketball and plenty of it is assured, the schedules for three leagues having been drawn up and plans are now under way to form a ladies league comprising teams from the various towns as well.

This news will no doubt be welcomed by the fair sex for during the past few years it has been felt that something should be done to give the girls an opportunity to develop in this game. In the north of the province we have the world champion Edmonton Grads and at Calgary several stellar ladies teams have been flourishing for years. Coming south, however, the game from the ladies standpoint just doesn't exist at all.

The idea of the officials of the south is to develop the game both as regards players and in interesting the public and for these reasons if for no other the organization of a ladies league was sanctioned. Bob Fergie of the "Y" will have charge of the Lethbridge girls' team and it is shortly to discuss rules, schedules, etc. It is almost assured that a four-team league can be formed Magrath, Raymond and Lethbridge being willing to enter teams and it is expected the Raymond Agriculture School will also enter a girls team.

In the men's department the senior league will be composed of three teams the Lethbridge "Y" Aces, provincial champions, Cardston and the Raymond Union Jacks who will re-enter the hoop arena. Owing to the scarcity of teams the schedule must of necessity be short but it is planned

Paul Redd and C. O. Asplund were in Lethbridge Saturday to the Basketball organization meeting.

Calgary announced the mercury at 13 degrees below Zero on Thursday morning at 9 a.m.

WHEAT: WHAT IS IT?

Wheat is a seed that is planted and grown in Western Canada to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy.

The protein varies in content and the man who can guess nearest the strength of the protein is called "wheat grader" by the public and "fool" by the farmer.

The price of wheat is determined at primary markets, and goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought.

A huyer working for a group of mills was sent to Chicago to watch the wheat sent to Chicago to watch the wheat market and after a few days' deliberation wired his interests in this effect. "Some think it will go up some think it will go down. I do too. Whatever you do will be wrong, act at once."

Wheat is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer and lost in the fall.

to work in as many exhibition games as possible.

The intermediate division is very strong this year and the outstanding feature is the entry of two new towns into competition for the honors. Glenwood and Taber have each entered teams which is added evidence that the game is again humming.

Owing to the distance between Taber and Glenwood, it was deemed advisable by officials present at the meeting to divide this league up into two divisions, to be known as an eastern division and a western division. This would do away with long trips and the winners of each section would meet in the playoffs for the championship.

Seven teams in all entered hoop squads in the intermediate section and they were divided as follows: Eastern section, Taber, Lethbridge, Stirling and Raymond Aggies. Western section, Magrath, Glenwood and Raymond Intermediates.

Officials in charge of the various teams were warned that according to the provincial ruling no intermediate team was permitted to have more than two players on its line-up who had been registered as senior players in previous years.

Four teams entered the High school section as follows: Raymond, Cardston, Magrath and Lethbridge.

The schedules as drawn up and appended below open up shortly after the new year and will continue until February 19. After this date the intermediate playoffs will take place and according to the ruling all southern playoffs must be completed by March 1.

Among those who were present at the meeting were C. O. Asplund, of Raymond, district organizer; Sinclair Howard, "Hod" Seamans, Geo. McKillop, Geo. Young, representing senior and intermediate Aces; Glen Hamilton, Lethbridge Collegiate; H. Teskey, Taber; D. Powelson and P. Dahl of the Raymond A.A.A.; Low, Raymond High School; D. Merrill, Peterson, Gibb and Christensen, of Stirling Woolley and Speaker of Magrath; Leavitt and Prince of Glenwood, and Bob Fergie of the "Y".

"Hod" Seamans was appointed official delegate to attend the provincial referees' meeting in Calgary shortly where the official interpretation of the rules will be discussed.

The league schedules as drawn up by the meeting follow and team captain are requested to clip these out for reference:

Bassano
Hospital

(By Edna Kells)

Hospital sentiment in Bassano, like Topsy of Uncle Tom's Cabin fame, just grew up! The Municipal hospital itself is a phase of the development of the country. Though situated on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Bassano district is of comparative recent settlement. The land is included in the Canadian Pacific Railway irrigation block, and there is no homesteading in that part of the country, for under arrangement with the Federal Government and the Hudson's Bay company, the railway secured all the land between the Red River and the Bow, from Calgary to Tilly.

The fact that there is no homesteading in this part of the province works no hardship on the hospital, on the contrary, much of the land is still owned by the C. P. R. and that corporation never fails to pay its taxes. So whatever comes or goes, pieces, has to cope with the problem of the non-ratepayer or transient occupant. The Municipal hospital at Bassano is sure of a large portion of its cost like other hospitals for Bassano. The hospital is a fine building and is sure of a large portion of its cost like other hospitals for Bassano.

According to statistics for 1928, Bassano hospital has the lowest death rate, the least number of hospital days per patient, and the lowest overhead expense of any hospital in Alberta. The death rate is less than one per cent, and there were no deaths among the 21 maternity cases cared for during the year. The people have got away from their fear of the hospital, says a prominent doctor, who recommends that the Alberta Government use every energy to develop the Municipal hospital scheme and further the interests of these hospitals in Alberta.

In the early history of the district a small private hospital was operated by a doctor later this was purchased by the town, but it was always operated at a loss. The hospital was too small, and the overhead cost per patient too high. In 1919, the Municipal Hospital district was formed and the board took over the old hospital and enlarged it to make provision for 18 beds. In 1923, a nurses home was built, and a isolation block with beds for four patients. This increased the hospital accommodation to 24 beds. Home and isolation block were built out of accumulated surplus at a cost of $16,000. The hospital is a frame building of the bungalow type, easy conveniently planned, and well equipped. A traveller for a big hospital supply house is quoted as saying that Bassano has the best equipped hospital in 30 beds in Canada. The nursing staff consist of four graduate nurses, including the superintendent, Miss M. K. Patrick, and two undergraduate nurses.

Maternity cases and surgery are "specialties" at the Bassano hospital. Nine babies have been in the hospital at one time. As many as four have arrived in one day. Doctors are only infrequently called to attend patients in their own homes, as the people have learned they can get better care and at less cost in the hospital, and they prefer going there.

Before the building of the hospital the nearest hospital were in Calgary and Medicine Hat, and this worked a great hardship on this people. Consequently there has been little opposition to the Municipal hospital scheme, and that which existed was quickly dispelled when members of the opposite families were stricken, and had to have hospital care. The hospital rate is $1.00 per day for ratepayers $3.50 for non-ratepayers. Land is taxed at the rate of 8 1/2 mills, and the townspeople whose tax does not amount to $6.00, pay the difference to secure the service.

The High School will have a dance on Friday, Dec. 20th. Look for the bills.

The weather caught a severe cold on Saturday night and since then the only time it has warmed up has been when it snowed. The snow now is about 18 inches deep.

OUR GRAVELLED ROAD

The summer and autumn have passed away and winter is here. Are we any further with our negotiations for a gravelled highway now than we were after the signing of the petitions in the late summer? These petitions were signed nearly 100 p.c. and then a new strip was decided to be added and the matter was held up. Very little has been said regarding this strip of country, which represents 15 p.c. of the road and only 10 p.c. of the taxable acreage. This condition has brought things to somewhat of a standstill, some of the people objecting to the addition.

The value of a gravelled highway has ceased to be a matter of question. Our question now is: How shall we proceed to get our road?

With the present outlook and the nearness of the Parliamentary session which will commence on January 30th it is our opinion that immediate action is necessary while we do not want to be accused of being agitators or anything of that sort, when we have gravel as near us as the Sunshine Trail and spring and muddy roads coming we wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea for the Municipality to start a graveling program of its own and travel the main road within its boundaries. The cost of road maintenance each year represents a tidy sum and if this were used as a beginning and tax the Municipality, as consent has already been given we could at least gravel the roads within the boundaries of the M. D., and we think this would be a strong inducement for other M. D.'s to do likewise. This may sound a little selfish, but we cannot see the wisdom of delaying and fighting mud and water another year or two waiting for a few land owners and officials to come to a decision.

We would suggest that the government act without delay and use its prerogative and get the district organized perfectly so that when spring comes a definite graveling and grading program can be carried on.

We believe that Southern Alberta, from Lethbridge south as the real red blooded pioneers, who put Alberta on the map, are entitled to the first secondary highway to which the government gives aid. Since 1887 pioneers have been raising prize winning grain and live stock, building irrigation systems, fathering industries and conquering the prairie. Are we going to be required to stand by and watch our younger districts riding on gravel while we still fight this good old red jambo.

This much is certain, we will only get what we go after. Boards of Trade, M. D. and Town Councils, Rotary Clubs, U. F. A's and other bodies should organize NOW, and keep this matter to the fore and when Parliament meets, send a good strong delegation to Edmonton, get a definite understanding and get the preliminary work all done, so that as soon as possible work can be commenced and an all weather road built before 1931.

Let's go! Organization and unity of purpose is the first essential. We may not be able to do it all, but neither can the government, and the A. M. A. can hardly be expected to push for roads in any definite section because of their provincial scope.

It rests with us to get the thing going. Give the other districts another chance. If they still hang fire, take advantage of the Government's 50-50 offer and get gravel in the local M. D. at least.

We are for progress and advancement.

A Challenge to Canadian Food Producers...

GREAT BRITAIN wants more Canadian foodstuffs. The plain fact is that the increase in trade in some of our food exports to the old country is not keeping pace with the growth of demand.

Britain's markets are wide open to Canada. Because of the exhibitions of Canadian products, the activity of our Trade Commissioners, and the effects of our advertising, the British consumer is more familiar with these products than ever before, and consequently more inclined to buy. Good will in Great Britain towards Canadian products never has been at a higher point than now. All the facilities of transportation for all classes of products from Canada to Great Britain have been provided.

Shall we Canadians overlook or neglect the opportunities for increased export trade which are thus laid before us?

Just because domestic markets are good, shall we as producers be so short sighted as to fail to satisfy so large a market which is more favourably inclined towards our products than ever before?

Not yet is there among our producers an adequate realization of the opportunities for increased production which present conditions in the British markets afford.

If you are a producer or dealer in foodstuffs, you can assist to your own profit in gaining a larger share of this market. Almost every community in this country stands to benefit. The result can be attained by:

1. Producing more of the kind of products the British consumer wants.
2. Keeping up a constant supply.
3. Maintaining quality standards.

Through its Commercial Intelligence Service, this Department will render valuable assistance to any exporter. Our Trade Commissioners' Offices in Britain are especially well-equipped and strategically placed to handle any export problem on behalf of Canadian exporters. Enquiries regarding British Trade receive prompt attention. Write to the Commercial Intelligence Service, Ottawa.

ADENOIDS

Behind the nose and above the throat there is normally, in every child, adenoid tissue. If this tissue becomes enlarged, we say that the child has adenoids. The adenoid tissue is similar, in many ways, to the tonsils. Adenoids are a disease of childhood. Enlargement, or disease or a combination of both, is responsible for certain abnormal conditions.

Among these abnormal conditions, we find obstruction to nasal breathing. Depending upon the extent of the obstruction, the child becomes more or less a mouth breather and if his condition persists, the jaw begins to drop, the cheeks become sunken, and the result is the typical adenoid "fishy" face, with its dull expression.

When there is obstruction to nasal breathing, such as results from adenoids, there occurs a deformity of the jaw, and this, in turn, brings about irregular teeth. The jaws of the child are soft and in process of development. It does not require much nasal obstruction to alter them and to cause more or less serious permanent damage.

Infection, when present in the adenoid tissue, is more than likely to spread into the ears and set up inflammation there which may result in loss of hearing, in varying degrees. The reason for this is because of the fact that there is a small tube—the Eustachian tube which connects the ear with the back of the nose and throat. It is, unfortunately, a simple matter for infection to spread down this tube; hence the frequency of ear disease as a result of adenoids.

The child with adenoids does not get a fair chance for mental development. He has the same feeling as he would have if he were living in a stuffy, unventilated room, and we know, from our experience, that this suffices to make anyone dull and lazy.

Adenoids, therefore, obstruct natural breathing, tend to deform the jaw, are responsible for ear disease and deafness, and handicap the child in his mental development. There is only one thing to do with adenoids, and that is to remove them.

DRY FEET

There are certain small things which, if neglected, may cause a considerable amount of discomfort; whereas, if attended to, they go far to make comfort. One of these is the question of keeping the feet dry. If we allow our feet to become wet and then sit for some hours at home, in school or at work, the chilling of the feet, while the rest of the body is warm, does, for some reason, predispose to colds in the head. In order to avoid head colds which are such a nuisance and which, sometimes lead to serious trouble, the feet should be kept dry and warm.

It is much more sensible to buy a pair of rubbers than to spend money on doctor's bills. It is much better to take an extra minute or two to put on a pair of rubbers than it is to spend a day or two in bed as a result of having got the feet wet.

It is not always possible for us to avoid wet feet; sometimes the rain is unexpected and we are caught un-awares. In such cases, shoes and stockings should be changed without delay, and the feet given a brisk rub with a rough towel.

Clothes should be worn according to the thermometer. In winter, shoes should have thick soles, or light shoes should be worn under overshoes. If woollen stockings are necessary to keep the feet warm, they should be worn. There is a difference in individuals; some require heavier foot clothing than others in order to keep the feet warm. This is something which we must learn from our own experience and by which we must be guided.

Parents will find that they will accomplish something worth while in preventing colds if they make sure that their children's feet are kept dry and warm during the winter season. It requires a little preparation in the way of providing rubbers and overshoes, and, when they are provided, it need some supervision to see that they are worn, but the effort will be well repaid in greater freedom from this winter nuisance and danger.
